

Skilled Workers Drive Manufacturing Success

Learn why BCIT Operations Management Grads “hit the ground running”.

Learn about co-op projects BCIT students undertake as part of the Operations Management Program and how you can leverage BCIT students for significant improvements to your manufacturing business.

Who should Attend?

CEOs, Owners, Senior Managers, and other stakeholders interested in learning about trends and options in attracting superior talent.

During this seminar you will learn about:

- Emerging Workforce Trends: There is a new worker emerging today—one who has redefined traditional concepts of loyalty, job satisfaction and career advancement. Businesses who thrive will require the pursuit of new, innovative and uncharted workplace strategies that produce a powerful talent engine.
- Management Trends and Tools Changing the Way Businesses Operate: BCIT Operations Management grads learn industry best practices and technologies to achieve excellence in manufacturing and distribution companies. They not only hit the ground running in existing positions in a company, but also have the education and analytical skills to look for opportunities to improve processes business wide.
- Co-op Case Study – BCIT Student project leads to $100,000 in savings: Learn about co-op projects BCIT students undertake as part of the Operations Management Program and how you can leverage BCIT students for significant improvements to some aspect of your business.

Date: Tuesday, June 1, 2010

Time: 8:00 am to 11:00 am (Registration & Networking 7:30 am)

Price: $35 Members - $55 Non Members

Location: Sheraton Guildford Hotel, 15269 104th Avenue, Surrey

Register Online: www.cme-mec.ca/bc

Questions? Zena Caul at zena.caul@cme-mec.ca

